

Quotations as a Medium for Promoting Encouragement by Janet Francis

Nothing ventured, nothing gained. (Author unknown)

Don't be afraid to go out on a limb because there is where the sweetest fruits of the vine hang ready to be plucked. (Blumberg, John)

Failures are not fatal. (Winston Churchill)

All work and no play make Jack a dull boy. (Author unknown)

I slept and dreamt that life was a joy. I awoke and saw that life was a service. I acted and behold service was a joy. (Rabindranath Tagore)

Democracy is a rewarding experience. It is part of human relationships that contain dignity and mutual respect. (Rudolf Dreikurs)

Instead of always harping on man's faults tell him about his virtues. (Eleanor Porter)

The mind is a parachute. It doesn't work until it is open. (Sam Johnson)

Do not light a fire under someone, light it within. (B.J. Gallagher)

When your values are clear making decisions become easier. (Roy Disney).

A child needs encouragement like a plant needs sun and water. (Rudolf Dreikurs)

If we are together nothing is impossible. If we are divided all will fall. (Winston Churchill).

Courage is going from failure to failure without losing enthusiasm. (Winston Churchill)

The significant problems that we face cannot be solved at the same level of thinking we were at, when we created them. (Albert Einstein)

The history of a free man is never written by chance but by choice, their choice. (Dwight Eisenhower)

When we know better we do better. (Maya Angelou)

Many a sermon is not only preached from the pulpit but is also lived in the community. (Cowboy Wisdom)

Your children are not your children. They are the sons and daughters longing for itself. (Kahlil Gibran)

Between stimulus and response there is a space. In that space lie our freedom and power to choose our response. In those choices lie our growth and happiness. (Stephen Covey)

Encouragement is food for the heart and every heart is a hungry heart. (Pat Morley)

People have a way of becoming what you encourage them to be, not what you nag them to be. (Scudder Parker)

Don't be afraid to take the first step even though you can't see the whole staircase. (Martin Luther King)

A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step. (Lao Tzu)

A great man does not lose his child's heart. (Mencius)

The surest way to reveal one's character is not through adversity but by giving them power. (Abraham Lincoln)

Alfred Adler reminds us that all human behaviour stems from interaction with others. 'A hermit may be concerned with avoiding society but he is still dealing with society by creating distance from society'

A child needs encouragement like a plant needs sun and water. Unfortunately, those who need encouragement most get it least because they believe in such a way that our reaction to them pushes them further into discouragement and rebellion. (Rudolf Dreikurs)

A simple rule of dealing with those who are hard to get along with is to remember that this person is striving to assert his superiority; and you must deal with him from that point of view. (Alfred Adler)