

Dr. Jill Pickett invites you to attend:
Connecting to the Therapeutic Unconscious: Level One

The relationship between the therapist and the client is dynamic and complex. It is one of the few relationships which requires the professional to have a keen sense of self and other (the client) simultaneously.

This four day intensive is designed to aid the therapist in honing his/her skills of assessment of the unconscious, connection with self, connection with the client and intervention when working with clients.

This workshop is beneficial for those who work with clients in a professional capacity where there is a therapeutic process, those who wish to improve their level of competency as a therapist or for those who wish to better themselves.

For more information view: www.asktheshrink.ca/retreats/

Or contact pickettretreats@hotmail.com

Ask about group rates and early bird discounts

Certificate of 24 hours for continuing education is provided.

Cost of this retreat may be covered under extended health plans.