

ONTARIO SOCIETY OF ADLERIAN PSYCHOLOGY TELECONFERENCE

Wednesday, November 20, 2013

Exploring the Impact of Personal Priority on Professional Identity

At the Adler Grad School of Minnesota, John has been developing a highly personal and subjective process relating to Professional Identity and Leadership. Participants are becoming more effective as they grasp what they "take in the room". Using our subjectivity fully with Emotional Intelligence creates optimum conditions for growth and Wellness for those we serve. This is a first and significant step toward a deeper Professional Identity. John is bringing his work to ONSAP via this teleconference.

Learning Objectives

By the end of the teleconference participants will be able to...

- Identify a personal priority
- State the "usefulness" and "uselessness" of that priority
- Conclude how this impacts our professional Identity.

Cost

- Members: $10
- Non-Members: $15

Note: You must also pay for long distance charge to a USA phone number. Suggestion: either use SKYPE or buy a calling card.

Time: 7:00PM - 8:30PM EST

Speaker: John M. Reardon

If you have any questions, please contact the EPDC at onsap.epdc@gmail.com.

John M. Reardon

Since founding Phoenix Process Consultants in 1984, John has worked with individuals, couples, families and organizations that are experiencing conflict, anxiety, chaos, and unfulfilling lives. He helps clients use their "spirit to overcome" problems, issues, and barriers, and to create new and realistic visions, goals, and action plans. He also helps clients to establish relationships that work through realistic negotiation and resolution. John's method is interactive, direct, energetic, and results oriented. You can expect meetings to be active and engaging.

John is also a Professor at the Adler School of Professional Psychology where he specializes in basic therapy skills, marriage and family therapy and advance therapy interventions, as well as, organization development, chaos and transformation and Adler applied to organizations.

John is a prolific author in the areas of Wellness, Life Processes, Conflict Resolution, Chaos and Transformation, Spirituality. Please feel free to learn more about John and the Phoenix Process Consultants at www.phoenixprocessconsultants.com.

To Register:

1. Go to www.adlerontario.ca
2. On the home page, click on Events/Workshop on the left side of the page and follow the steps to purchase your ticket through Eventbrite.

The Education and Professional Development Committee provides educational, professional development and networking opportunities related to Adlerian Theory and Practice.